Pre-Conference Workshops
Wednesday, November 20, 2019
9:30 am to 4:00 pm

Workshop Option 1: Teacher Clarity--Creating Learning Intentions and Success Criteria for Organized, Effective Instruction

*Presenter: Nancy Frey, Professor of Educational Leadership, San Diego State University
CTE Teacher, Health Sciences High and Middle College*

Teacher clarity is both a method and a mindset. It's teaching that is organized and intentional. It requires that teachers understand what students need to learn, communicate learning intentions to students, develop with students an understanding of success criteria, deliver lessons in relevant and engaging ways, and ensure that assessment drives instruction. Workshop participants will receive the book, "The Teacher Clarity Playbook: A Hands-On Guide to Creating Learning Intentions and Success Criteria for Organized, Effective Instruction" by Doug Fisher, Nancy Frey, et al.

Workshop Objectives:

- Acquire strategies to organize instruction using the tools and templates of "The Teacher Clarity Playbook".
- Modify learning intentions to include language expectations for supporting English Learners.
- Design assessment opportunities based on high-impact, research-based practices.

Note: Attendee registering for Workshop 1 should be prepared to identify an Industry Sector or be seated by school group.

Workshop Option 2: Future Ready Today--Where Best Practices Meet Next Practices and How to Get There

Presenter: Raymond J McNulty, President, Successful Practices Network and National Dropout Prevention Center

The future is not some place we are going to, but rather what we are creating with our everyday actions. As educators, we need to be the agents of change, which requires us not only to have a future-focused vision and agenda, but also to behave our way into the future. To be successful tomorrow, we need to understand innovation and the skills necessary to explore the challenges and opportunities that confront us. In this workshop, you will learn about the challenges we face, skills needed for the future and discover helpful strategies that will assist you in learning from both success and failure.

Workshop Objectives:

- Identify strategies and processes that drive innovative thinking and actions.
- Explore how the future has reshaped the world of teaching and learning, and what that means for our schools.
- Build an action plan (Greater Purpose Statement) to help guide your work.

Registration Fee $150

Pre-Conference Workshop registration fee includes continental breakfast and buffet lunch.
Seating is limited so register early—registrations are accepted in the order received.

About the Keynote Speakers

Rachael Mann

Thursday, November 21, 2019 - 8:30 am

Founder of #TeachlikeTED and coauthor of the Amazon bestseller, The Martians in Your Classroom, Rachael Mann is passionate about ensuring that educators are equipped for projected changes in the workforce and how these changes translate into the classroom. She speaks to educators, students, and industry leaders globally and is on a mission to empower her audience to think bigger and to launch these ideas. As a former CTSO chapter president, advisor, judge, and state director, Rachael understands Career and Technical Education. Her CTE journey began in her high school Marketing class. She went on to teach culinary arts and technology for over a decade. Since leaving the classroom, she has served as the Educators Rising Arizona State Director, the Network to Transform Teaching State Director, and as a professional development director serving CTE educators and students in 12 districts. Rachael's belief that CTE is the playing field for authentic learning and to bring academics and STEM content to life has led her to her current role.

Thomas Murray

Friday, November 22, 2019 - 8:00 am

Tom serves as the Director of Innovation for Future Ready Schools, a project of the Alliance for Excellent Education, located in Washington, D.C. He has testified before the United States Congress and has worked alongside that body and the US Senate, the White House, the US Department of Education and state departments of education, and school districts throughout the country to implement student-centered, personalized learning while helping to lead Future Ready Schools and Digital Learning Day. Murray serves as a regular conference keynote, was named one of "20 to Watch" by NSBA, the "National/Global EdTech Leader of the Year" in 2018, the "Education Thought Leader of the Year" in 2017, and the "Education Policy Person of the Year" by the Academy of Arts and Sciences in 2015. His best-selling book, Learning Transformed, was released in 2017 with ASCD, and his latest book, Personal & Authentic, will be in late 2019.
